1. Matters related to summary information (Notes)

Application of special accounting methods used for preparing quarterly consolidated financial statements

The Company and certain domestic consolidated subsidiaries calculated tax expenses by multiplying Income before income taxes by an effective tax rate that was reasonably estimated by applying tax effect accounting to estimated Income before income taxes for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2019 including the period for the nine months ended December 31, 2018. Amounts of Income taxes include Income taxes-deferred.

Notes: 1. The figures above include negotiable certificates of deposit in “Cash and due from banks” and beneficiary claims on loan trust in “Monetary claims bought.”

2. Stocks within Other securities and foreign stocks within Others of Other securities are valued with the average market price during the final month of the period. The rest of the securities are valued at market prices as of the balance sheet date.

3. Other securities and Other money held in trust are valued and recorded on the balance sheet at market prices. Unrealized gains (losses) indicate the difference between the acquisition costs (or amortized costs) and the balance sheet amounts. Net unrealized gains (losses) on Other securities include gains (losses) which are recognized in the statements of income by applying fair value hedge accounting and accordingly not recorded directly to Net assets. Losses of 15.9 billion yen and gains of 0.0 billion yen were recognized in the statements of income for the nine months ended December 31, 2018 and for the year ended March 31, 2018, respectively.

4. Floating-rate Japanese government bonds which SMBC holds as Other securities are carried on the balance sheet at their reasonably estimated amounts in accordance with the “Practical Solution on Measurement of Fair Value of Financial Assets” (Accounting Standard Board of Japan Practical Issues Task Force No. 25).
